R. O. HOFFMAN WILL STUDY WHILE ABROAD

TO ATTEND UNIVERSITY OF PARIS

Plans to Enroll As Regular Student In Institute of French Civilization; During
Year of Absence.

Professor Rudolph O. Hoffman, associate professor of French, who has been granted his sabbatical year's leave of absence for 1928-29, will attend as a regular student the Institute of French Civilization of the University of Paris during the entire academic year 1928-29.

This institute, which forms a part of the "Extension Universitaire," is open all year, and is divided into three terms of four months each, namely: (1) the winter semester, from November 1 to March 1; (2) the summer semester, from March 1 to July 1; and (3) the summer vacation session, from July 1 to November 1. However, during this latter term the courses and the seminar work are very much restricted, and therefore no examinations are given nor diplomas awarded. During each of the two regular semesters nine courses are taught in this institute by some of the most famous and brilliant masters of the Sorbonne.

The object of the institute is to impart as broad a view as possible of the political, economic, intellectual, and moral formation of France. The nine courses offered are: 1—French literature of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance; 2—17th and 18th century French literature; 3—19th and 20th century French literature; 4—Historical evolution of France; 5—History of French art; 6—Contemporary history of France; 7—History of French thought; 8—French geography with stress on the French regions; 9—French life and institutions.

Professor Hoffman plans to follow all of the nine courses and spend the work over the entire academic year, from Nov. 1 to July 1.

Professor Hoffman will leave Missoula Tuesday, June 12, for Hoboken, N. J., from where he will sail June 19 on the S. S. George Washington of the United States lines, for Plymouth, England. Over London and Dover he will go to Ostend, Belgium, where he will join Mrs. Hoffman and their son, Bernard. En route to the east Mr. Hoffman will call on relatives in Chicago and Reading, Pa. He will also stop over in Washington, D. C., for sightseeing.

Miss Amy Maude Yeatts will teach French during the absence of Professor Hoffman.

The display will consist of the best work that has been submitted this quarter in the classes in elementary and advanced drawing, elementary design, teachers' art and advertising.

Some fifteen exhibits have been shown in the art department this year. These include the work of Prof. Riedell, a group of photographs by Prof. Howd; Oil paintings by Dr. A. J. Trichler of Fort Missoula; a display of American paintings from the McBeth Galleries; exhibit of lithography; display of Irvin Shopen's work; Exhibit of rare stamps; 100 prints of famous paintings; western scenes by Anton Piers; Soap sculpture exhibit; Work of Arnold Gillette; student exhibit; oil collection by Bertha Ballou; exhibit by Tony D'Orazi and John Allen.

Aside from the exhibits, the department has been active in other ways. ## BIG SISTERS HOLD MEETING

150 Girls Selected to Act
As Advisors to New Women Students

At the meeting of Big Sisters, which was held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Main hall auditorium, Mrs. Harriet Sedman, dean of women, and Sallie MacLay spoke to the gathering on their obligations to the girls, which are placed in their care for next year.

One hundred and fifty girls of the State University, who will be in the three upper classes next year, have been selected to act as advisors to freshmen girls and new students, who enter the University next fall. Each girl of this group will be given one of one or two Little Sisters, one town girl and one from out of town, so far as this is possible.

The Big Sisters' obligations include writing to the Little Sisters this summer and communicating with them during the first week of school next year, and taking them to the churches with which they are affiliated on the first Sunday morning after they arrive, and to the annual tea which will be given in honor of the Little Sisters that afternoon.

Special committees of Big Sisters will be stationed in both North and Corbin halls at certain hours of each day of registration next year, to act as an information bureau to the new girls.

A change is to be made in the duties of Big Sisters next fall, according to Mrs. Sedman. They will not help the freshman girls register as they have in the past, because the freshman schedule which has been worked out by the University officials has rendered this assistance unnecessary.

Gertrude Gustafson of Rapelle has been selected by the executive committee of AWS as chairman of the Big Sister movement for next year. Miss Gustafson is working with a large committee on details of the plan, and will be instrumental in informing the older girls as to whom their freshman charges will be. Big Sisters will be assigned as the new students' applications for entrance into the University are received.

101 STUDENTS FAIL TO GET SENTINELS

There is still a number of year books unaltered for date. 101 students who have paid the full activity fee for the three quarters have not as yet received their annuals. There is also a number, who have paid for one or for two quarters and who may get a book by paying the fee for the remaining time. The following students who have had their names put on their copy, may secure them at the Sentinel office: Marian Andrew, Chuck Alderson, Mark Conroy, Delta Sigma Lambda, Maude Fryer, Albert H. Hollischer, Elmer L. Hugo, Lewis J. Johnson, Jane Nofsinger, Arnold Olson, Stewart W. Prather, Richard G. Schneider and S. R. Smith.

As the Sentinel staff allowed sufficient time, for students to call for their annuals and are at present busy with examinations, it will be impossible to set any definite office hours. However members of the staff will be in the office whenever possible to give out books. Students who have not called for their books and would like to have them are asked to call at the Sentinel office at their earliest convenience.

MUSIC, LECTURE COURSES PLANNED

Arrangements are being made for a combination music and lecture course to be given in Missoula next year, according to E. L. Freeman of the English department. Prof. Weisberg and Prof. Freeman have been in communication with bureaus which supply talent for such courses, and tentative arrangements have been made for four numbers. The opera, "The Barber of Seville," and the London String Quartette, are the musical numbers conditionally chosen. Lecturers who may be brought to Missoula are John Langgon-Davies, an English lecturer, and Joan London, daughter of Jack London. Judge Ben Lindsay is another possibility who will be brought here if the sentiment of students and townspeople is favorable. Other numbers will be arranged later.

The leaders are selected for character, scholarship, leadership and adaptability to dormitory life. In the past they have been selected by the dean of women, directors of the dormitories, and by popular vote of the residents of the halls. This year they were named by the Dean of Women and the dormitories directors.

When these ten girls return to school next year, each will be put in charge of a wing of the dormitory. Their first duties will be to get acquainted with the freshman girls and help them to adapt themselves to dormitory life. During the year the leaders will cooperate with the directors in enforcing rules and upholding traditions.

Alpha and Omega

To you Seniors who are graduating next Monday, Commencement will be both a beginning and an ending; an ending of your college years, and the beginning of your broader life careers.

Commencement will mean the opening of a new and larger chapter in your book of life—but a chapter depending very much upon that shorter chapter which is now being closed.

This does not mean, as you well know, that your education has been brought to a conclusion. Rather your education is just beginning for education is a long and never-ending process, and a goal that is never ultimately reached.

For those things you may wish to, or be forced to, believe in life, you can find adequate proof. Remember too, that a decent respect for various opinions of mankind is one of the greatest signs of true culture. Nor will such a respect hinder you from making friends in the various fields of endeavor you may choose to follow.

If wishes were potent we would wish you all success. But wishes are, after all, only wishes. And we know that from now on any success that you are to earn must be more than the result of your own work.

We shall hope that you will come back to your Alma Mater on any occasion that you may do so; and that you will pass on the good word for the institution that will always be your school.

We shall hope that your course will be relatively smooth—and too—that when obstacles come, as they inevitably sometimes, must come—that you will put up a good fight.

And that after all is what counts.

Now That Vacation

June 18, Montana University will begin its thirty-first summer session. Admission requirements will be the same as those of the regular academic year.

To meet the needs of students unable to attend the entire course, the session will be divided into three periods of three weeks each. The second period will start July 9, and the third, July 30, the quarter ending Friday, August 17.

Six nationally known lecturers who have never taught in Montana before will be here. A wide range of courses and the program of week-end excursions will combine to make the summer session both profitable and interesting. Give it a thought.

If you are not going to summer school, read what a business man, who is himself a university graduate, recently said about vacation and the college man:

"Whenever a college man applies to me for a job I never inquire about his scholastic standing. What I want to know is how he spent his summer vacations—three months per annum, and before he gets his degree that amounts to a whole year, the most valuable, I think, of his entire collegiate course. Never again will he have a similar opportunity. If he has wasted it, I know something about him; if not, he has a record worth showing..."

While one might be disinclined to agree entirely with this man's words, there is a great deal of truth in them at that. Give them a thought.

Farewell

This is the last issue of the Montana Kaimin for this year. However, the work will be carried on through the summer session, with the copies coming out semi-monthly. We hope that the students of the university, feel satisfied in the honest endeavor of the work turned out by the old and new staff.

The closing of school marks another year of progress for the students and the Kaimin. As each year pass with the graduation of seniors, the job of carrying on is left to the incoming freshmen and the other classes, as they move upward towards that far distant goal, which seemed so near yet.

Why wander away on a theme of expression, dealing with things that occur year in and year out. But the words "carry on" is always before us.

The final "30" is only placed at the end of this article to signify the end of its contents, and not the final end. For soon we will be back to pick up the threads where we leave off now.

The Kaimin staff hopes that everyone, will have a good summer's vacation and return next fall imbued with ambitions, spirit of endeavor and energy, ready for the task of securing an education to carry us on after our work has been completed here.

Prosperity

The University of Montana is just about ready to finish another successful year. Successful in activities of scholarship, school spirit, campus work, athletics, and other events of importance that have occurred during the school year.

Progress has left its marks upon the State University during the past years, from its infant growth back in 1895 up to its youthfulness of 1928. However, there is still room for advancement, and along many lines, but the time element is essential and to rapid growth of any institution is harmful. Montana should feel quite proud of the past activities of her University. Many events of importance and new items, have appeared upon the campus to bring success upon the institution.

Thus this year leaves off with such a record to numerous to mention, but with the students returning again next fall, Montana University will again continue to keep up her present achievement, to a better end.

New Local

A new local is to appear on the Montana campus for next fall. The new organization will be named, "Zeta Chi." It is being formed by a number of girls, who are in good standing scholastically, and should form into a strong order.

There are now eighteen fraternities on the campus, with the new local increasing the number to nineteen. The question of over crowding the number of organizations now already active, by increasing the fraternal orders, will undoubtedly be questioned. However, looking at the present situation, not much harm can come this quarter, as the steady increase of students, which is gradually growing from year to year, will demand such an advancement. And it is felt that this new order is rightfully in forming, due to the high marks this group of girls have set, as an example, which is a target for other orders to aim at in the future.

We wish Zeta Chi, success and hope that it will prosper, as we know it will, into a strong organization.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor, the Kaimin:

Since this is the last opportunity, this year, to make an open suggestion about an activity that might be made much of, I send this letter to you.

Previous to this year May Fete has been produced by AWS, assisted by the women's physical education department, WAA, having enterprises of its own, has not taken part in the production this year. May Fete, this spring, then, is the result of efforts of members of AWS.

It seems to me that AWS is attempting to carry on a traditional activity which is not in its province. The presentation of May Fete should incorporate members of the dramatics department, the dance department, and the music department. As it is managed now, members of those departments are engrossed in activities of their own organizations, which might easily combine to offer a performance of significance and wide attraction.

The spring festival at the State University could be made a unique and vital affair. The natural beauty of the campus lends itself admirably to out-of-doors productions. Montana history is full of incidents which might be dramatized. They might be our specialty. With the dramatics department managing the production and acting, the dance drama or WAA offering authentic American Indian dances, and the music department, in choir or orchestra furnishing the music, a spring festival of special appeal to Montanans, and to visitors from outside our state, could be presented. I feel sure that there is spirit and support for that kind of an activity. Historical pageants could be produced in alternating years, perhaps, and entertainments such as "Midsummer Night's Dream," presented several years ago, used.

AWS has sponsored May Fete for many years and there would be, no doubt, reluctance in giving it up. But the possibility of development under the present plan is slight. Only through the combination of the departments and people specializing in the various aspects of its production can May Fete be made a vital and unique activity.

Lillian Bell.

Photograph of Tony Sarg taken in his studio while test was being made

How Test Was Made

Mr. Sarg was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke. To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette. Mr. Sarg was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during the test. After smoking the four cigarettes, he was asked to designate by number his choice. He replied, "Number 4," which was OLD GOLD.

BIG TRACK MEET WILL OPEN TODAY

WILL START AT 3 O'CLOCK

Athletes Here From Coast Schools for Annual Contest

With ideal weather in prospect the first Pacific Coast conference track and field meet, ever to be held at the University of Montana, will open this afternoon on Dornblaser field at 3 o'clock. Approximately 100 athletes from the coast schools have arrived the last two days and are entered in their respective races and field events. Saturday's program starts at 1:30 o'clock.

Tickets for the meet are going fast, according to reports and it is thought by tomorrow afternoon all the good seats will be taken. People from the coast and all over the state of Montana, are pouring into Missoula to attend the biggest sport event ever to be held in Montana in sport circles beside the Dempsey-Gibbons fight, a few years ago. It is safely estimated that more than five thousand people will be here to see the kings of the cinder path at their best.

Coach Stewart Picks

Montana fans will see the cream of the University track men in action, Coach Stewart having picked his best fourteen men last Tuesday. Howard Hill, one of Coach Stewart's most reliable track men will not be able to be in action because of an injured leg received in the Dual meet, with the University of Idaho a few weeks past. Tom Davis, university sensational sprinter and Stevie will enter the 100 yard dash. Davis will repeat a run in the 440 run. Barnes, Adams and Tom McCarthy will enter the half mile, while Kenneth Davis and George Martin will carry the university colors in the mile. Frank Curtis and George Martin will enter the two mile run. In the low hurdles Foy Priest and Don Stevingson will uphold Montana's honor, while Thompson and Foy Priest will try for a place in the finals in the high hurdles. Jake Miller will do the pole vaulting and Otto Bessey, Montana's little giant with a dynamic reserved punch will hurl the javelin. Shorty Huber, the wonder midget, will try for the broad jump. Montana's relay will be composed of Tom Davis, Barnes, Adams, Don Stevingson and Earl Tysel. In case any one of the former four men are unable to run, Coach Stewart will have Tom McCarthy and Kenneth Davis on reserve. Bus Graham will heave the weights.

Meet of Thrills

The conference meet will hold a bundle of thrills for the fans, with such stars as Borah in the sprints, Draper in the sprints, both of the University of Southern California; Hill of the University of Southern California and Striff of Oregon State and Shorty Huber of Montana in the broad jump; Lee Barnes of U. S. C. in the pole vault; Ried of Washington and Don Cleaver of the University of Idaho in the distance runs; Steve Anderson of Washington in the high jump. These are all men who have established records for themselves, but it will not be expected that many more men with hidden ability will give plenty of entertainment.

Representatives

The representatives from the various schools include: U. C. L. A., Steve Anderson, general manager, and Bill Spaulding, football coach; U. S. C., Glynn Wilson general manager, Arnold Eddy, assistant general manager, Bill Hunter, athletic director, Dean Cromwell, Coach, Prof. Hugh C. Willett, faculty representative; University of California, Bill Monahan, general manager, Nils Price, football coach, Clint Evans, assistant coach and Prof. Cadaman, faculty representative; Stanford, Al Masters, general manager, Prof. Owens, faculty representative; Washington, Earl Campbell, graduate manager, Dean May, faculty representative, Hec Edmundson, coach; Idaho, George Horton, graduate manager, Capt. Bryant, coach, Dean Angle, faculty representative; W. S. C., Earl Foster, graduate manager; Doc Bohler, athletic director, Carl Sladerman, track coach; Oregon, Jack Benitell, graduate manager, Professor Howe, faculty representative; Bill Hayward, track coach; O. S. C., Carl Lodell, graduate manager, Paul Schlissler, coach, Dean Cordley, faculty representative.

California Faculty Member Is Visitor

Mrs. Volney M. Spaulding of the faculty of the University of Southern California, was a visitor at the science departments yesterday. She made a detailed visit to the Botany department and inspected the herbarium. Mrs. Spaulding is an instructor of Botany at the California Institution.

BORAH WILL LEAD TROJANS

Will Captain University of Southern California Track Next Year

Charles Edward Borah, brilliant sprinter on Coach Dean I. Cromwell's University of Southern California track team, was elected captain of the 1929 Trojans as the team pulled into Washington, D. C. on their return from the I. C. A. meet at Boston last week. Borah, who was withdrawn after winning his heat in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, won both sprints at the national meet last year. He holds the intercollegiate record of 20.9 seconds for the 220 yard dash and has run 9.3-5 in the 100.

Borah, who is among the first group of students scholastically in the junior year at the Southern College of Dentistry, is a graduate of Phillips-Andover Academy, Massachusetts. He holds the Andover school record in the 100-yard of 9.4-5 and the 440-yard record of 49.3-5. As a freshman, Borah chased Charley Paddock former Southern California runner, to a new world's record of 9.5 in the 100 yard dash.

The curly-headed speedster was undefeated in collegiate competition as a sophomore, winning both the 100 and the 220 in the intercollegiate meet. In his present track year, a strenuous scholastic schedule, incident to his first year of dental clinic work, cut down his speed in the early season. He was beaten by Weldon Draper, a teammate, and by Russell Sweet of the Olympic club of San Francisco. He came back, however, to win the California, Stanford and Illinois dashes.

Borah is a son of Dr. James L. Borah, of Phoenix, Arizona. Borah with the rest of his teammates, has been in Missoula for three days resting up after a strenuous trip from the East. You will see the human speedster in action on Dornblaser field Friday and Saturday afternoon, when he goes into competition with other fast track artists in the Pacific Coast conference.

Each man is hopeful to enter and one must remember that these men are valuable. The best in the country. In fact, Borah can probably beat any man in the world in the 220 if he is in good condition.

As for Draper-Borah never looks around for him in a race. He can't afford to. Draper has been placing second to Borah in practically every race that they have been in. Because Borah beats him is no sign any body else can.

Again the press gives its thanks to Southern California and Dean Cromwell.

Russ Sweet, trained down to perfect condition, is one of the big drawing cards of the meet.

Russ has shown noticeable improvement in getting out of his holes and looks great in action.

His rhythm of muscular motion is beautiful to watch and with the right day and that just right feeling, the world's record in the hundred is due for a flop.

Russ has already beat the time in practice and has been caught in 9.2-5 by competent men.

Big Brix looks and is a shot putter. If he gets a little of the Montana altitude in his shot and some of the distances that Montana is famous for, something is bound to be broken.

He has put it past the 50-foot mark and who knows but what another foot may be hidden away in that husky right arm of his.

with intra-mural athletics. Members present were much in favor of increasing the intra-mural program because of the opportunity it gives students to participate in athletics who are not of varsity caliber. The delegates also agreed that many varsity stars have been uncovered by intra-mural sports.

Student managers' clubs were also discussed but action was deferred for the time being.

The convention spent a considerable portion of the morning on the minor sport situation and especially as pertaining to wrestling. In several of the coast schools wrestling has been dropped from the roll of major athletics and placed in the minor group. They believe that the list of minor sports should be in-

More than 30 members of the Pacific Students Presidents' association, opened their second meeting at the Florence Hotel Thursday morning, and immediately fell to work in discussing important business that has been accumulating during the past year. Guests at the Alpha Phi for the Pacific Coast conference track meet and the commencement program include Dorothy Rector of Great Falls, Alva Larsen of Choteau and Emma Quast of Corvallis.

ALUMNI AND SENIORS DINE

John Patterson, vice-president of the Alumni association will be the toastmaster and chairman at the annual Alumni-Senior banquet at Corbin hall, 6:15 p. m., Saturday evening. A program of three short talks, songs, a good time is planned for the occasion. Sheridan's orchestra will furnish music during the four-course dinner.

The members of the faculty will sit with the students in their respective departments. The evening is to be given over entirely to the process of introducing the Seniors to the Alumni. There will be no long addresses, no fees, no notes or Alumni obligations to be signed. Tickets may be obtained before Saturday noon at the president's office for one dollar. This event is one of the most pleasant of the events, scheduled for the commencement program, according to one of the members of the committee. It is one time when the serious business of being graduated is laid aside, and the prospective graduates meet those who have already left the institution. It is the last time that the graduates get together as the Senior class.

George Shepard will give a short talk as representative of the Alumni. Milton Brown, president of the Senior class, will respond for the Seniors. President C. H. Clapp will Professor R. O. Hoffman leaves Missoula June 12, for Ghent, Belgium where he will join Mrs. Hoffman and travel about Europe. Mr. Hoffman will study at the University of Paris next fall. He plans to return to Missoula for the fall quarter 1929.

Professor A. H. Weisberg will spend the summer at teaching music at the Southern branch of the University of Idaho, Pocatello, Idaho.

SPORT SPURTS

What a gang of athletes! Borah, Draper, Brix, Foster, Sisson, Barnes, Sweet and Cha. T. Aris.

Every man with a reputation. Barnes holds the world's record in the pole vault. Borah has equaled the century. Sweet has been unofficially caught under the record.

The hotels of the city are filled with people bustling here and there with business-like attitudes. At night the crowd changes to pleasure seekers.

Barnes gave the crowd a thrill when he trotted out on Dornblaser field in his sweat clothes and cleared the bar at 12 feet 6 inches. When he took off his clothes he topped the bar at 13 feet with a foot to spare.

Barnes' style of jacking the bar is particularly interesting. He has such perfect co-ordination of muscles that he uses the minimum of effort.

Williams also has a nice style of vaulting and uses some powerful shoulders to get up and over.

The 440 yard race will be one of the feature races of the meet from both a local and conference standpoint.

Tom Davis with True-Oullette, Baynard Sisson and a few other boys who are hanging around 49.2 will have a nice blanket finish.

And all will have to hurry to get under the blanket.

Southern California's willingness to do everything possible to further the meet, deserves commendation and thanks. They are a willing bunch and accommodating, from Coach Dean Cromwell to the least of the team. And when we say least we are speaking of one of the best teams in the country.

Cromwell will try to enter Borah and Draper if it is at all possible. Both men have strained muscles in their legs and Draper especially is in poor condition. Jimmy Payne also enters this crippled list.

Each man is hopeful to enter and one must remember that these men are valuable. The best in the country. In fact, Borah can probably beat any man in the world in the 220 if he is in good condition.

As for Draper-Borah never looks around for him in a race. He can't afford to. Draper has been placing second to Borah in practically every race that they have been in. Because Borah beats him is no sign any body else can.

Again the press gives its thanks to Southern California and Dean Cromwell.

Russ Sweet, trained down to perfect condition, is one of the big drawing cards of the meet.

Russ has shown noticeable improvement in getting out of his holes and looks great in action.

His rhythm of muscular motion is beautiful to watch and with the right day and that just right feeling, the world's record in the hundred is due for a flop.

Russ has already beat the time in practice and has been caught in 9.2-5 by competent men.

Big Brix looks and is a shot putter. If he gets a little of the Montana altitude in his shot and some of the distances that Montana is famous for, something is bound to be broken.

He has put it past the 50-foot mark and who knows but what another foot may be hidden away in that husky right arm of his.

STUDENT PRESIDENT GROUP OPENS SECOND MEETING

Discuss Important Business That Has Accumulated During Year

More than 30 members of the Pacific Students Presidents' association, opened their second meeting at the Florence Hotel Thursday morning, and immediately fell to work in discussing important business that has been accumulating during the past year. President Wright Morton opened the meeting with a welcoming talk and Secretary Urel Narver of Oregon State college passed out copies of the topics that were to be discussed.

The first subject discussed dealt with intra-mural athletics. Members present were much in favor of increasing the intra-mural program because of the opportunity it gives students to participate in athletics who are not of varsity caliber. The delegates also agreed that many varsity stars have been uncovered by intra-mural sports.

Student managers' clubs were also discussed but action was deferred for the time being.

The convention spent a considerable portion of the morning on the minor sport situation and especially as pertaining to wrestling. In several of the coast schools wrestling has been dropped from the roll of major athletics and placed in the minor group. They believe that the list of minor sports should be in-

Delegates for the convention who arrived this morning included Dean Anderson and Smith Troy of Washington, who are also stars on Coach Edmundson's Husky track team; Bill Henley of U. S. C., vice-president of the Presidents' association, and Bob Behlow, also of U. S. C.

Although the band was not officially entered in the meet, Wilbur Jurden, a member of the freshman track squad, scored one point for the band when he took third place in the two-mile run.

The results of the events were: 100 yard dash-Parmenter, C. R. Davidson, A.; Haverfield, A. 220 yard dash-Parmenter, C. R. Peterson, A.; Fetterly, A.

created to include branches of athletics that not as yet have found their place in either minor or major groups.

The delegates were in unison in denouncing the proselyting of prospective athletes. The subject has been referred to a special committee, and will be brought up again before the convention is over.

That awards for athletics should be uniform in the colleges with the approval of the body. This means that all major branches of sports will be governed by practically the same rulings that are now in force. The change would come in the awarding of letters and trophies for minor sports and intra-mural activities.

In some schools medals are awarded to one minor sport, while the other will receive sweaters or letters. The convention decided that the best plan would be to set a standard for all minor sports. This would lessen the jealousy between the activities and would make for a more even distribution of material throughout the various activities. The same applies to awards given for offices and students committees. By eliminating the discrimination in giving awards to the various groups it would make for a better feeling and strengthen the program.

The next business session of the group will be held tomorrow morning at the Margaret hotel in Bonner. This afternoon the delegates were taken on an inspection tour of Fort Missoula and then up the Bitter Root to the Daly ranch. They returned in time to go to a tea given by one of the sororities in their honor. This evening a barbecue will be held for the delegates on the bank of the Rattlesnake river. Last evening a theatre party and a dance at the Chimney Corner was held for the group.

Delegates for the convention who arrived this morning included Dean Anderson and Smith Troy of Washington, who are also stars on Coach Edmundson's Husky track team; Bill Henley of U. S. C., vice-president of the Presidents' association, and Bob Behlow, also of U. S. C.

CONFERENCE MEET TO BE ABOLISHED

TO BE DIVIDED INTO DIVISIONS

Graduate Managers Decide to Do Away With Annual Contest

Graduate Managers of the Pacific Coast conference, decided at their meeting at the Florence hotel on Thursday morning, to definitely discontinue the annual conference track meet and substitute separate championships to be held in the Southern and Northern divisions. The managers also proposed a four year rotating football schedule. Final decisions were also made as to the holding of the golf tournament, tennis tournament and the play off for the championship between the winners of the northern and southern basketball divisions.

According to Jack Benitell, president of the graduate managers association, the reason for discontinuing the conference track meet is the difference between the track seasons of the southern and northern schools. California has its dual meet season completely out of the way by the end of February and is in the prime by April. The northern schools are just turning out for track in April and are not at their best until the last of May and the first of June.

The Pacific Coast Conference track meet also conflicts with the intercollegiate meets held in the east. As the California schools rate exceedingly high in national track, having won the national meets during past years, they prefer to attend these eastern meets and find it very difficult to travel clear across the country to get back in time for the Pacific Coast Conference meet.

It has been decided to hold separate meets for the southern and northern schools in the future. The meet to be held in Missoula Friday and Saturday will in all probability be the last time that the schools and the northern will be seen in action to a conference meet.

The University of Washington has charge of the conference tournament for 1929, while the conference tennis tournament held at Los Angeles May 1 basketball play off for the Coast conference champion to be held in the north, March case of a tie necessitating between any of the divisions the conference tournament held a week later.

A four year rotating schedule was proposed at the meeting and is under discussion present time. The schedule advantage of permitting a year in the conference to have traditional football game year and at the same time each school in the conference during the four year period. The new type of schedule adopted, will equalize the different schools and will play the same amount during the four year period. Some traditional games school will play are as follows: California-Stanford, Washington State-College, Oregon-Washington and Oregon State-College.

The next meeting of the Graduate Managers will be held at 8 o'clock. The coach hold their meeting tomorrow morning. Coach J. W. Stewart, track mentor and for ctics, represented the meeting.

Russell Sweet represented the Olympic club at the Phi Sigma Kappa house.

Vivian Bruneau of Great a guest of her sister, Helen Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Margaret Mix was a Wednesday guest at North hall.
